

Natural and Cultural Heritage Values (NCH) Division - Data Attribution Guidelines (October 2021)

All material published and/or delivered via the Natural and Cultural Heritage Values (NCH) is copyright to the State of Tasmania, and is protected so far as is allowed by the provisions of the Copyright Act 1968 (C'th). Data from the NCH must be acknowledged whenever it is used, in the manner specified by the NCH division (but not in any way that suggests that the NCH endorses you or your use of the work).

'Data' means and includes:

Digital Climate Maps of Tasmania baseline datasets to 2018; Digital Climate Maps of Tasmania projection datasets (Based on Climate Futures For Tasmania Modelling) to 2030 and 2050;

supplied to you via the Natural and Cultural Heritage Values (NCH) Division of the Department of Primary Industries, Parks, Water and Environment (DPIPWE).

The NCH division utilises the Creative Commons Attribution 3.0 Australia (CC Aus.) licences for selected Data. The CC Aus. Licence advises the permitted use of the Data. Data uses permitted can be different, please refer to the CC Aus. Licence. Regardless of the CC Aus. licence used you must always attribute the NCH as the creator. Attribution is important as it acknowledges your use of the NCH Data and allows others to find and use the Data from its original authoritative source if they wish. By using the Data you agree to accept the Terms and Conditions and the NCH division Attribution Guidelines. If you do not accept these you should stop using the Data immediately.

How do I acknowledge my use of the Data?

Any product or service derived from the Data whether for commercial or non-commercial gains, internally or externally of your organisation must be accompanied by the relevant acknowledgment statement(s). The statements must be in a form visible to the human eye:
